DON'T LEAVE NORWAY

No Need to Seek Afar. The Evidence
Is At Your Door

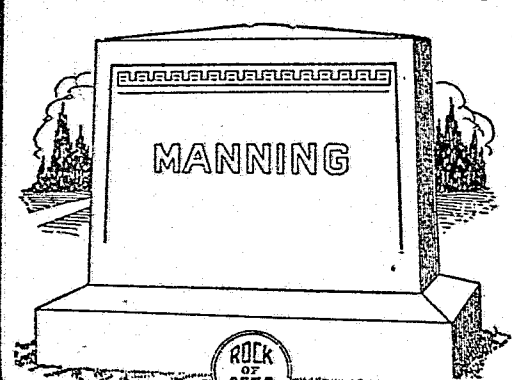

No need to leave Norway to hunt up proof, because you have it here at home. The straightforward statement of a Norway resident like that given below, bears an interest for every man, woman or child here in Norway.

Albert F. Prescott, shoemaker, Crockett's Bridge, Norway, says: "My kidneys gave out a year ago and I had backache so badly it put me past going for several days. I couldn't bend, I was so stiff and lame. I was working in the ship yards at the time and I blame so much heavy lifting for my trouble. I had to get up several times during the night to pass the kidney secretions and I felt drowsy all the time. Finally I went to Stone's Drug Store and got three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. Doan's reached my case at once and after using three boxes, the trouble left me entirely. I have felt fine since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Prescott had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BUCKFIELD

Alonso F. Warren

Alonso F. Warren, prominent churchman, businessman and G. A. R. veteran, died at his home here at midnight Monday at the age of 75 years, after a brief illness. He was deacon of the Baptist church for many years, and active in G. A. R. circles as a member of Fessenden Post. He was identified with the Republican party and deputy sheriff for several terms besides being active in the grange and Odd Fellows.

He leaves one son, James E., one daughter, Mrs. W. M. Ricker and a grand-daughter, Barbara Ricker all of Buckfield.

KEZAR FALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Bisbee of West Sumner have recently been the week end guests of their cousin, Mrs. W. T. Norton.

Mrs. Herman J. Fox who went to the Deaconess Hospital, Pilgrim Road, Boston, some weeks ago, to receive treatment for her eyes, remains about the same.

A new furnace has recently been installed in the M. E. Church, which, with the one already in, bids fair to keep the church goers comfortable the coming winter.

Frank E. Holmes has bought from Allen Garner the land and building between the covered bridge and road leading to Porter village.

Horace Sawyer's new bungalow is being shingled as are also the two cottages recently constructed in Germerville and it is rumored that Bert Chapman has bought the Boothby stand.

Many changes in the ownership of real estate have taken place the past season, but with the growth of the village more rents are greatly needed.

Fred Weeks, formerly of this town, but for several years past of Maynard, Mass., was in town for a few days recently, visiting his brothers and renewing acquaintance with old friends. Mr. Weeks has many friends here and has not lost his love for the old home town, although prospering finely in his new estate.

NORTH NORWAY

HARDLY a day goes by but some one goes out of his way to tell us that Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are the best tires built.

Cords—as only Firestone builds them—will give you many extra thousands of miles of wear. And for fall and winter driving there's nothing like them. The strong, resilient Firestone carcass of gum-dipped cords, can stand the hardest punishment.

With the reputation Firestone Cords hold, it is not surprising that so many motorists in this community have made them standard equipment. The demand for Firestone Cords in the last few months has broken all records.

Prices were never so low as they are now. Perhaps never again can mileage be sold so cheaply.

Decide now that you will get Most Miles per Dollar. Drop in any time and let's talk tires.

MRS. ALEXANDER BRADLEY'S FIVE-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER DANGEROUSLY ILL

Here is a little bit of true life put into a letter. Mrs. Alexander Bradley of Danbury, Conn., says: "After 14 long years trying different remedies I have at last found a good medicine—Dr. True's Elixir. "I was nearly discouraged. I was giving the oldest girl something nearly every night, but now I keep a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir handy, and only give it occasionally. Now please print this letter so other anxious mothers may know the good results which follow Dr. True's Elixir for children suffering with worms and constipation, as I cannot recommend it too highly."

Symptoms to watch: Constipation, offensive breath, swollen upper lip, deranged stomach, occasional pains, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

A great deal of sickness comes from irregular bowels, a vital part of the body. At the first signs of constipation give Dr. True's Elixir—for it is the right kind—pleasant to take, with no gripping or distressing after-effects.

A well-known New Yorker writes: "While visiting in historic old Plymouth (Mass.), my family became acquainted with your Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It does all you claim for it in aiding digestion and relieving insomnia and constipation. Please ship me six large size bottles, for mother is in need of it."—Wm. I. Ralph.

Nearly every grown-up as well as every child needs a laxative. Keep the bowels regular by using Dr. True's Elixir. 40c, 60c, $1.20.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

Cummings vs. Hassam Paving Co.

The Hassam Paving Co. as defendants in a suit brought by Arthur D. Cummings of Oxford, received a verdict in their favor. The suit was to recover damages assessed at $250 to shade trees along the road opposite the Cummings residence. Said damages alleged to have been caused by the Hassam Co. teams while the concrete highway was under construction.

The plaintiff alleged five large elms on the easterly side of the road had been "barked" on the roots and trunks, consequently many limbs have since died. The construction teams traveled on this side with sufficient space between the cement and trees to clear easily. Mr. Cummings claimed carelessness was responsible for the injuries.

The defense stated the Hassam Paving Co. was constructing this concrete road under a contract with the state highway department, therefore they had all the rights of the highway. The trees stood within these limits and could be removed if necessary. If any damage had been done the company had not been accused of malicious conduct, but the results were due to natural causes incidental to performing their contract.

The jury visited the locality and carefully inspected the trees and surroundings. After deliberating two hours they returned a verdict in favor of the Hassam Co., stating the company did not exceed its authority under its contract with the State Highway Commission and that the trees were within the limits of the highway.

Alton C. Wheeler was attorney for Mr. Cummings and Howard Davies for the defendant.

Respondents Arraigned

Respondents in jail were arraigned Saturday forenoon in the court room as follows:

Henry Estes of Porter, indicted in October, 1920, for breaking and entering the barn of William Sargent of Porter and stealing an automobile, pleaded not guilty. He had no counsel and Judge McCarthy was assigned by the court to look after his interests.

Keith Carle of Rumford, indicted for breaking into the restaurant of Ernest Thibodeau of Rumford and the larceny of thirty dollars in money, pleaded guilty.

George Eaton and Otis Eaton of Norway were arraigned on indictments charging them either individually or jointly with breaking and entering several cottages in Norway. They pleaded not guilty to all.

George Tucker of Hartford pleaded not guilty to two indictments respectively for manufacturing intoxicating liquor and for having a still in his possession.

Charles L. Mills of Rumford pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging willful failure to support his wife and children.

Samuel W. Dorr of Mexico pleaded guilty to an indictment for selling a team which belonged to another man.

Ernest Marcus of Mexico pleaded guilty to the charge of having a still in his possession.

James Edwards of Albany pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging the larceny of extracts and other articles mostly liquid, to the value of a hundred dollars, from the house of Leslie N. Kimball of Albany.

Roscoe Child of Hartford retracted his former plea of not guilty to a complaint for single sale of intoxicating liquor, and pleaded guilty. In consideration of the condition of his family the case was continued until the next term, he furnishing sureties.

Court Notes

Five extra jurors were summoned Saturday morning to take the place of those excused. Percy D. Mayhew, Paris, Albert E. Dean, Paris, Norman U. Greenlaw, Norway, Harry Emery, Paris and Albert A. Towne, Norway.

Court was not in session Friday as a mark of respect to the late Chief Justice William P. Whitehouse of Augusta whose funeral was held that day. The Judge and members of the bar attended.

On motion of Ellery C. Park of Bethel Malcom R. Bean of Bethel was admitted to practice law. Mr. Bean is the son of Clyde Bean a resident of Iowa and one time a resident of Bethel. He is a graduate of the Boston University Law School in the class of 1922, and has since been admitted to the Massachusetts bar. He expects to locate and practice in Maine.

Thayer vs. Holden

Theodore Thayer of South Paris brought action against Harry B. Holden of South Paris to recover the value of a horse alleged to have been overdriven, and as a result was killed by orders of a veterinarian. The amount in the writ was $1000.

According to the story told by the plaintiff Mr. Holden who conducts a livery business engaged a horse of Mr. Thayer on a date in February of this year for a trip to West Paris. When about half way to his destination the horse showed signs of sickness said to be indigestion. The trip was completed however and the horse returned to Mr. Thayer. As stated by Mr. Thayer and Raymond Russell the animal was in bad shape and when taken to the stable was unable to stand. Dr. C. M. Merrill the South Paris veterinarian was called immediately and gave treatment in several calls until the horse was ordered to be killed about 11 o'clock that night.

Mr. Thayer testified the team left So. Paris about 10 a. m. and returned at 12:15 p. m. The distance was 19 miles with hard traveling because of a snow storm which set in about the time Mr. Holden started from South Paris. On cross examination by Mr. Williams the plaintiff considered Mr. Holden an experienced and careful driver and admitted the defendant came to him soon after and expressed his sorrow for the loss, with a desire for a reasonable settlement. Mr. Thayer also admitted at a forced sale the horse might bring at least $600. He considered in this case Mr. Holden did not exercise due care and should have stopped for treatment.

During a recess at this point the parties came together and settled and the case was taken from the jury. Alton C. Wheeler represented Mr. Thayer and Walter L. Gray and Dana Williams for Mr. Holden.

Merrill vs. Holden

Harry B. Holden appeared as defendant in a suit brought by Nathan D. Merrill of Norway for commission on the sale of the Holden livery business to Leon Russell in December 1920.

Mr. Merrill's story was to the effect he was employed three weeks at the Holden stable in South Paris, receiving $15 per week in wages. In addition he received half the profits in horse trades on the side according to a mutual understanding. At last two dickers had been made during his engagement and the commission paid him by Mr. Holden.

A customer for the livery business appeared and the first price set at $1500. This was to be increased according to Mr. Merrill and he alleged one-half of the amount above that figure should be his commission. As a result of an interview with Leon Russell, the business was sold for $2100 and a bill of sale properly executed. A check and note were made to Harry B. Holden. Mr. Merrill said he asked for his commission when they returned to the stable and had made several demands since. He claimed $300 as per agreement which was his due as agent.

Mr. Holden agreed to the plaintiff's contention about commissions but stated the transfer of business was contemplated before Mr. Merrill entered his employment and was not consummated by him. Mr. Merrill interviewed the prospective customer merely as "ordinary help" for he was too busy to take up the matter with Mr. Russell. Furthermore Mr. Holden stated the $600 jump in price was due to an increase in the number of horses and livery equipment, not because of any talk about commission.

Howard Record of South Paris a disinterested party testified to a conversation in the stable office between Mr. Merrill and Mr. Russell. This took place the evening before the bill of sale was executed. Mr. Holden was not present. He stated the talk was about the transfer and Mr. Merrill arranged the final details.

After being out an hour the jury returned a verdict granting the plaintiff damages in the sum of $300. Alton C. Wheeler for the plaintiff, W. L. Gray and Dana Williams for the defendant.

Achino vs. Arden

Peter Arden of Rumford was defendant in a suit brought by Rose Achino the charge being slander. Remarks detrimental to the good character of the plaintiff who is a married woman, were alleged to have been uttered by the defendant before witnesses.

The principals and witnesses were Italian and a number being unable to understand or speak English the services of an interpreter were necessary. After several testified to hearing the unsavory statement as alleged in the writ, or words to that effect, proceedings were halted and the case dismissed. Beliveau for plaintiff, McCarthy for defendant.

Pouliet vs. Bernier

Leda Pouliet of Rumford brought suit against Alfred A. Bernier of Rumford for breach of promise to marry, with the sum of $15,000 named in the writ for damages.

The defendant Alfred Bernier was granted a decree of divorce from the plaintiff some fourteen years ago, adultery being the charge. The case was not contested, for as alleged by Bernier her whereabouts were unknown to him. The customary legal notice was published in a county newspaper.

According to the story told by the plaintiff or the former Mrs. Bernier, she learned indirectly about the decree some months later and hastened to Rumford from Massachusetts where she had been employed. Her story was to the effect the former husband explained to her his grounds for separation were "desertion" and he was willing to take her back for the sake of the young daughter, and they could re-marry sometime. She lived thirteen years as his wife and frequently begged him to make their cohabitation legal. He put off the day until within a few months he is alleged to have refused absolutely to re-marry. She left his home and action to recover damages followed. Several witnesses testified to the good character of the plaintiff.

The defense was a flat denial of any contract or mutual understanding whereby they ever should re-marry. Bernier admitted unlawful cohabitation during the past thirteen years. He charged the plaintiff with unfaithfulness during this period and named a Rumford man who he alleged visited her apartments. With- ness testified to seeing the man in the building and on one occasion finding Leda Pouliet's door locked. Another woman in the case has aroused the jealousy of the plaintiff and is a reason charged by the defendant for his divorced wife's lust for revenge and responsible for this suit. Apparently she was satisfied with their living conditions until her suspicions were aroused and trouble followed quickly according to the defendant.

In answer to the charge of unfaithfulness the plaintiff denied any unlawful associations with the man mentioned. He never was in her apartment except on two occasions, then on invitations to dinner by her former husband. The presence of the man in the building at other times was while pursuing his duties as a plumber. Testimony was introduced to corroborate the facts.

Both parties agreed their domestic life before the divorce was rough and unpleasant. The plaintiff stated she was forced to support herself and infant daughter and went to her parents when conditions became unbearable. After getting a little ahead she returned until more trouble drove her away for employment in cities.

George Brown has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Fannie Andrews. Mr. Brown has been in Florida the past two winters and expects to spend the coming winter there; he plans to leave for Florida about the 27th of October.

C. F. Wilson and a friend of Portland are here camping at his cottage for a few days and will try to take a deer, or two.

Mrs. Nettie Hill was in Norway Oct. 6th to have some dental work done and to do some shopping.

A vacation does little good, for when a man arrives home he finds his desk buried under bills.

A SHABBY HOUSE OR A SHABBY MIND

Have you been in houses where lovely flowers stood all about and everything was spick and span, but the library table was strewn with papers and magazines of the trashiest description? Is it a good thing to have the furniture of the house the best that money can buy, and to furnish the mind with silly and disreputable things in the way of reading? Better by far have a shabby house than a shabby mind. The shabby furniture can be burned or sold, but what can be done for the shabby mind? Use The Youth's Companion to furnish your mind, and wherever you are—in plain but immaculate rooms or amid splendors and palaces—you will be at home. Try The Companion for a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:
1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.
2. All the remaining issues of 1922.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1923. All for $2.50.

4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications only $3.00.

IN THE SEA.

"In the sea," said Daddy, "and far away from here where the tropics are where all is warm and where the plants and birds and animals are very different from here, there are floating plant creatures known as Portuguese Men-of-War."

"The reason they've been given this name is because some one who was about to name them decided they looked like old men-of-war vessels, and so they were given the name."

"You'll describe them, won't you, Daddy?" asked Nancy.

"Please do," said Nick.

"Yes," Daddy, continued, "the Portuguese Man-of-War is made up of many little creatures all joined together. Just as though many of us were all fastened together in our villages or in our country places."

"And some of these creatures are very different from each other. The Portuguese Man-of-War is quite large, and when it is like this it is filled by a kind of gas which enters into it and which makes it look even larger than it is."

"It is beautifully colored and it floats on top of the water."

"These are the large members of the colony, and the rest of them, or rather a second kind of members of the family, hang from under the side of these—many little creatures which form the largest part of the colony."

"Many of these are small and trumpet-shaped, and they are the ones who do the marketing and get the food for the rest."

"Then there are members of the colony who also hang from under the many members on top, and they are the fingers or the feelers for the community."

"There are some others still who look like bunches of grapes, and they look after the baby creatures who come to form a part of this strange animal-plant."

"Still more of them are like great long ribbons and they are armed with cells which sting and slay young fishes down in the water, which they then bring up to the members of their family above."

"So, you see, this whole big community of many-colored little creatures, which are a kind of animal-plant life, all help each other. And they are all of many beautiful colors, and add as much to the beauty of the sea as anything else."

"They are like a very, very big plant with many beautiful streamers hanging from below and with things like bunches of grapes right under the main part of the plant. Do you think this is all clear?"

"Well," said Nancy, "I see how the whole thing is a big plant-animal kind of thing which only is in the tropical sea, and that all the different parts help each other along, but I would like to know if they're always together. Don't any of them ever leave the community and go off for a walk or a swim?"

"No," said Daddy, "for they are all joined together. None of them are separate from some part of the whole of the thing."

"It must be rather tiresome for them," said Nick.

"I suppose they would be lonely and homesick any other way though, now if they're so used to it," said Nancy.

"Yes," said Daddy, "and they must enjoy life, for they keep on with their little strange ways, and they are so beautiful that they must even admire themselves."

"I speak of them as a sort of plant, too. They are really living creatures all together like you will find many sea creatures in cells together, though not just like these, and not like prisoners!"

"But I want to make it quite clear that they are all together as a plant would be, and yet each has its purpose in life, whether it be to market or get the fish or look after the eggs or what it may have to do."

"Lately I have seen in a great museum in one of the large cities a copy of one of these colonies made out of blown glass."

"There is shown all the colors, for without the colors you can't half imagine how lovely it is. The little creatures are lovely lavenders, and green, and purples, and browns, and pinks—all like a lovely mass of soft and delicate colors."

"So that the Portuguese Man-of-War and its little inhabitants are becoming better known."

What has become of the o. f. man who was distinguished because he could whit-tened his toys?

His Rheumatism Has Entirely Disappeared

The successful treatment of rheumatism by taking Tanlac is one of the outstanding features of that remarkable medicine. Thousands of people everywhere have testified that it has brought them complete relief from this tortuous disease. Mr. S. S. Graffam, of 229 Oxford St., Portland, Me., says:

"I had rheumatism all over my body, suffered terribly from indigestion and my kidneys also bothered me a great deal. I was in mighty bad shape. I am in good health now, however, for Tanlac drove away every sign of rheumatism and indigestion, my kidneys no longer worry me, and I'm feeling great."

When the digestive system, liver and kidneys are not working properly, uric acid and other impurities accumulate in the muscle and joints, causing rheumatism. Tanlac quickly overcomes this condition by enabling the vital organs to perform their functions properly. Get a bottle today at any good druggist's.

LITTLE TALKS ON MERCHANDISING

A merchant who lets goods lie on his shelves from one to ten years has money tied up and idle which is worth 6 percent per year. Such a policy adds greatly to the expenses of running the store and the goods that are sold must carry enough profit to support those which are not selling. "Our Store" is not and never will be a "Museum" with a lot of old unwanted shelf warmers to support.

BUY ADVERTISED GOODS

Save Money—Protect Yourself
Advertising benefits the consumer—most of all. Advertised goods are trade marked to protect the consumer for quality and quantity. Think of the infinite variety of prepared foods, from which the greater part of a wholesome meal may be prepared with almost no work for the housewife.

Think of the household conveniences and business conveniences—the time savers in your office or home—the accessories which make your automobile a greater pleasure. All of these things are rather intricate. It would cost a small fortune to prepare a few of them for private use. How do you suppose the man who first thought of these things was able to make them for you at a price you could afford to pay?

It was through advertising—of course. Advertising organizes cooperative buying units. The man with a new idea knows that he can tell thousands or millions of people about his idea through advertising. He knows that the united buying power of all these people will enable him to produce his idea in practical form at a cost which is only a fraction of what the first article would cost. One of the best examples of how this is done is Eskimo Pie. Within six months after the inventor first had his idea, everybody in the United States knew about these delicious new chocolate covered ice cream bars.

This was a spectacular demonstration of how advertising can bring a new idea to the whole American public. But in every advertising success, the same principle holds true. But advertising does more than introduce new ideas to you. It safeguards you in the purchase of any advertised product. You can depend upon it—nothing can succeed through advertising unless the article itself has merit. Advertising a bad product will make just as many enemies for that product as advertising a good product will make friends for the good product. And so, if an article has been widely advertised for a long time, you can be sure that it is good or the public would never have supported it. You know that the advertised and trade-marked product must have a definite quality—and be fully worth the price. You can be sure that you get more real value in an advertised product for every penny you spend, than you will in an unadvertised product, because advertising is the cheapest selling method there is.

You know the advantages of co-operative buying. You have heard a lot about the idea in the last two or three years. You belong to a cooperative buying society every time you buy an advertised product. Read advertising. Buy advertised products. It is the surest way to be certain of satisfaction and money's worth.

ITS LAST CALL

Autumn is now making its last call to those who would enjoy the glorious coloring of its superb foliage. Today it is at the height of its marvelous beauty, tomorrow it will begin to fade and fall, and soon will be gone.

There is nothing more wonderful than the coloring of the trees in Maine in the Fall, the grandeur of which reaches its highest point of perfection during the first few days of October. There is the brilliant red of the maple, the fascinating yellow of the birch and beech, the deeper red of the oak, all banked against the superb deep green of the fir, spruce, pine and hemlock; those gallant trees which never lose their color which always give life to the forest, even in winter when the other trees stand like bare spectres on the face of the landscape.

The recent cold wave was the "last straw which broke the camel's back," the last attack of Jack Frost from which the foliage cannot recover. From now on the leaves fall rapidly until they are all gone. If one would enjoy the wonderful Autumnal coloring in the mountains and throughout the country district one must move with speed. A trip by automobile at the present time through the lake and hill districts of Cumberland and Oxford counties, or among the White Mountains is one never to be forgotten, a picture the beauty of which completely baffles the most skillful user of pen or brush.

THE OPEN FIRE

This is the season of the open fire in the fireplace which, notwithstanding all attempts to undermine its popularity through the invention and perfection of modern heating plants, still holds a firm position in the hearts of the people.

What is more delightful than in evening at home before an open fire with one's family and friends gathered about the fascinating flames, watching them as they leap up the chimney forming fantastic figures no two of which are alike! There is something inspiring about an open fire, something that begets pleasant day dreams, that recalls enjoyable events of the past, that brings out the best thoughts that are in one.

An open fire, whether it be out in the woods surrounded by the darkest of shadows which seem to conceal all kinds of imaginary and forbidding demons, or in a log house around which the howling winds of Winter may be piling great drifts of snow, or in the finest city home, is always a joy and a source of comfort. Even the cat and the dog love it. It is something that may be enjoyed by the rich as much as by the poor and whose popularity seems likely never to decline.

EAST SUMNER

Land Mark Removed
An old "land mark" has passed away by the removal of the huge chimney in the historic old Dea. Robinson house, and with it goes the last brick oven in the vicinity. The house with its old time chimney must have been erected more than 130 years ago, being the first house in the place constructed from saved lumber. The chimney at its base occupied a space about 10 feet square and its top was nearly four feet square. The bricks were laid in clay mortar which in some places had fallen out leaving large cracks where the fire might have penetrated, and it is a wonder that the building had not been burned for years past.

In this old house where the writer was born over 85 years ago, he distinctly remembers when all this food was cooked by the open fireplace and the huge brick oven. It is now "fare-yell Bro. Watkins" to the luscious baked beans, brown bread, sweet apple pudding that adorned the old round table in the old kitchen on Sunday morning.

In autumn the old kitchen was adorned with long poles attached to the ceiling bearing round slices of pumpkin and strung apples for drying while over the wooden sink hung strings of link sausage. In autumn, a barrel of "biled cider" apple sauce was made over the kitchen fire and frozen for winter use. Biscuits were baked in the "tin baker" placed before the open fire. These biscuits were frequently adorned with black spots made by the sparks from the "snappy wood." Near the open fire reposed the shovel, tongs, bellows and broom and brock. Jack. On the mantle piece were brass and iron candle sticks, a gruel, bodkin, and a "T. D." clay pipe and piece of tobacco.

In the sink was a little iron kettle used for washing face and hands. A homemade roller towel always hung near the sink. This old kitchen on Sunday evenings was usually well filled by the neighbors and others assembled for prayer meetings as there was no church in the fall and winter the open fire and a polished brass candle stick with a lighted candle in it afforded the light. The lighted candle was placed on the best light stand near the minister. Singing in the services was from memory no song books then. The favorite tunes were, Windham Marlow, Barby Uxbridge Dedham and tunes of that strain. The meetings, though of rather mournful status, held the young people orderly and quiet. In fact it was about the only weekly diversion. Occasionally in autumn the old kitchen was the scene of mirth and joy when an "apple paring bee" was on. Also when a supper of hot baked beans, Indian pudding, doughnuts and homemade cheese, and apple mince and pumpkin pies was served after a "corn husking bee" in the barn. Yes, the old chimney and brick oven have passed but the old kitchen and front rooms remain intact and with the new chimney may do service for many years to come. Those were happy golden days. How sweet their memory still.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Norway Grange

The regular meeting of Norway Grange was called to order by worthy master G. W. Richardson at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 14th. There was a good attendance and several matters of business were considered. Plans were made for the fair and chicken pie supper to be given by the grange Friday, Nov. 3.

Prof. B. H. Brown, Eva Jackson and Janette Noyes were appointed committee on decorations.

The next meeting of the grange, Oct. 28, will be observed as anniversary day with program in charge of G. W. Richardson, Addie Danforth, Louise Gammon and Mary Oxnard. South Paris, Hebron and Oxford Granges have been invited as guests of the day.

The committee on dinner consists of the A's to H's inclusive with Katherine Delano as chairman. After the business session the following program was much enjoyed by those present:

Music "The State of Florida".....The Nobles Reading "The State of Florida".....Original poem, "Norway, Dear Old Norway".....Questions: How to care for an Automobile.....G. W. Richardson

Outside speakers.....Katherine Delano What should we do about the grange in the home? Addie Young, Rev. O. E. Barnard

Music "The Nobles".....The Nobles Reading "The Nobles".....Leta Watson

Baptist Church Notes

Thursday C. E. at 7:30, "True Patriotism." Leader, Homer Aldrich.

Saturday, Prayer Circles at 7.

Sunday service at 10:45, sermon by the pastor on "The Heavens." A Christian Experience. Sunday school at 12.

Evening cottage meeting at 7 at Frank Dow's, Hicks? Crossing.

Monday choir rehearsal on the hill at 7.

Whittings are piling up at the Weary Club, indicating feverish activities around the stove these cool evenings. The "mail homes" have a cord of cedar and pine for jack-knife artists during the long winter, when "whoppers" are told and imagination runs riot. What a stage setting for the late Artemus Ward.

The Browning Reading Club was entertained by Mrs. Gertrude Libby, Monday evening. The roll call was responded to by harvest gleanings and a reading by Mrs. Lena Andrews on "Denmark and the Danes."

The students of the High school have started rehearsals for a farce which they will present at Grange hall, Friday evening, the proceeds to swell a fund for a new piano for the High school. After the farce there will be a dance. Anna Longfellow the instructor of Latin, is coaching the students. Shaw's orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie Oldhome, and I read through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed,' for you were a 'friend indeed.'"

HARRISON

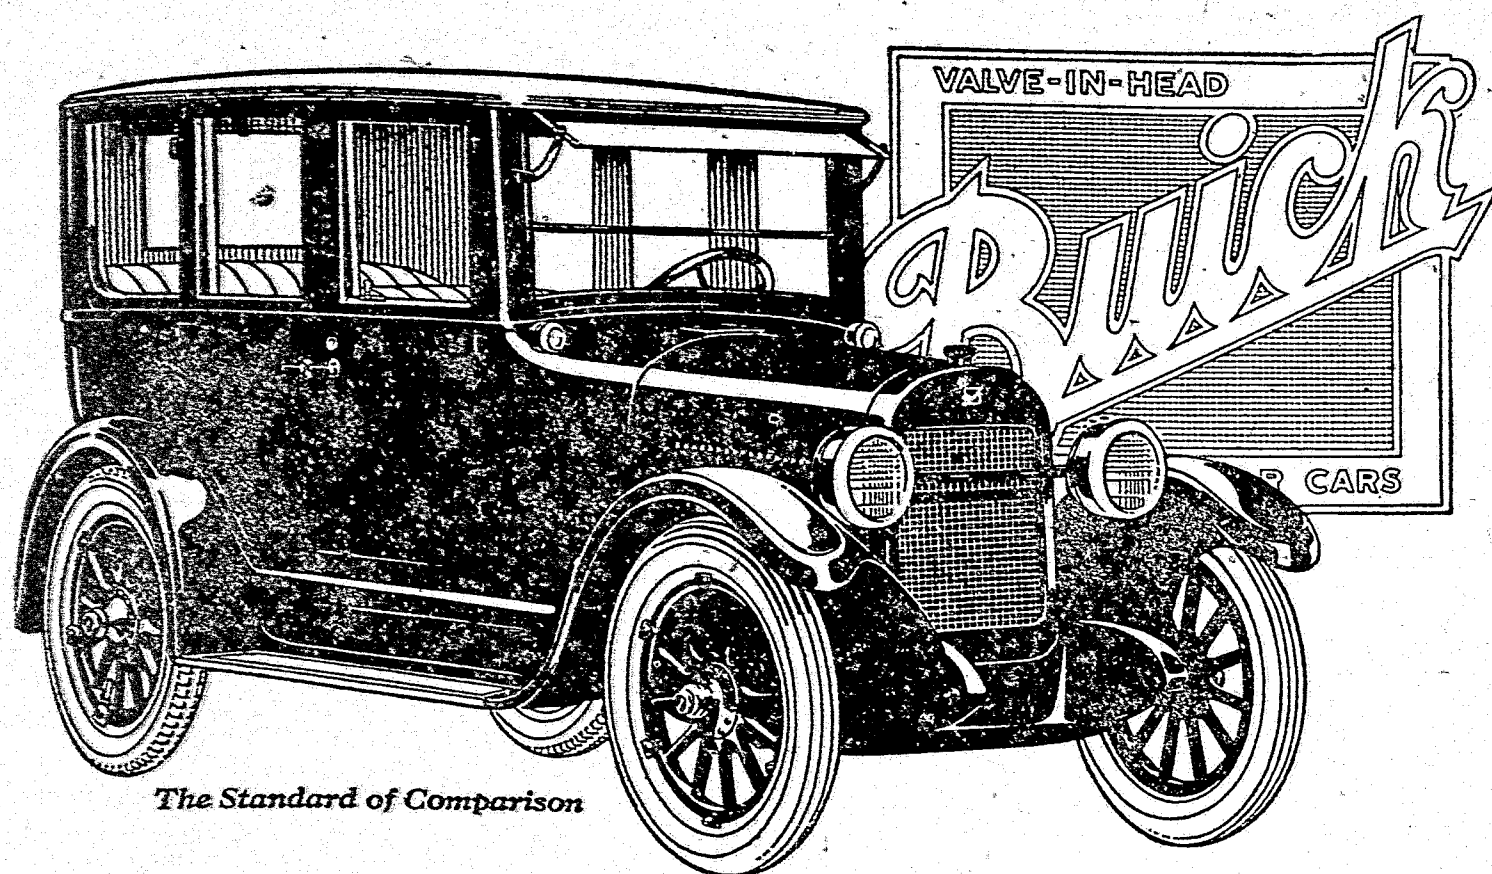

William L. Grover

Services for William L. Grover, 81, a Civil War veteran and resident of this town for the last 35 years, who died at his home on Main street, Tuesday afternoon after a long illness, were held from his home, Friday, Rev. L. Winfield Witham of the Federated Church officiated. Interment was in the family lot at Bethel.

Mr. Grover, who was an esteemed citizen, with a large circle of friends, was born in Bethel. He was a sergeant during the Civil War, and served in the 23rd and 29th Regiments. Mr. Grover was a member and deacon of the local Congregational Church for many years, and was commander of the John A. Logan Post, G. A. R., until the post disbanded a year ago, on account of the failing health of its few members.

He was an agent and director of the Harrison Mutual F. Insurance Company for some years and is survived by one son, Henry Grover of Cleveland, Ohio and a sister-in-law, Miss Emma Kilbourn of this town, who cared for him in his last illness.

Year 'Round Comfort at a Modest Cost

The 1923 Buick Four Sedan—$1395

The new Buick four cylinder, five-passenger sedan has every convenience and comfort of the finest closed car—and at a price that fits the purse of the average family.

The Fisher-built body is trimmed and upholstered in fine plush with hardware of a handsome pattern. Wide doors with large plate glass windows, adjustable to any position, give easy access to the roomy compartments. Silk shades, a soft dome-light and fine carpeting are all of a quality found only in higher priced closed cars.

Convenient Gear Shift Lever
In all of the 1923 Buick models the gear shift lever has been lengthened, bringing it up to the level where the driver's hand will rest naturally when released from the steering wheel. Changing gears can be done quickly, without bending forward or groping for the lever.

The lower body and higher radiator and hood, give this sedan a distinguished appearance that is heightened by the crown fenders, drum type head and parking lamps.

Marked refinements in the chassis and in the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine increase the riding comfort and add materially to the inherent Buick qualities of dependability and performance.

The Buick Line for 1923 Comprises Fourteen Models:

Four—2 Pass. Roadster, $865; 5 Pass. Touring, $885; 3 Pass. Coupe, $1175; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1395; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1325; Six—2 Pass. Roadster, $1175; 5 Pass. Touring, $1195; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1325; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1395; 4 Pass. Coupe, $1895; 7 Pass. Touring, $1435; 7 Pass. Sedan, $2195; Sport Roadster, $1925; Sport Touring, $1925. Prices f.o.b. Buick factories. DOES IT PAY TO WORRY

ABOUT APPENDICITIS

Can appendicitis be guarded against? Yes, by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal antiseptic, Adler-ika, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel removing ALL foul, decaying matter which might start infection. EXCELLENT for gas on stomach or chronic constipation. It removes matter which you never thought was in your system and which reports it is unbelievable the awful impurities Adler-ika brought out. Frank Kimball, Druggist.

recently underwent surgery for the removal of tonsils. His recovery was not satisfactory and he will go to Hebron sanitarium for treatment for a throat trouble.
